

What's new for the 2018 CBI Program?

Please see the overview below of key changes to the Care Based Incentives (CBI) program in 2018.

New Fee-For-Service (FFS) Measure

- * Buprenorphine License: Payment for this measure is based on providers obtaining an X-License through the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA). The Alliance will pay $1,000 for each CBI group that the X-licensed clinician practices under. Non-physician medical practitioners (NPMPs) must submit their X-license and that of their supervising primary care physician to be eligible for incentive payment.

Programmatic Measure Changes

- * Program Change: Due to new guidelines from the State of California, the 2018 CBI Program has shifted to primarily programmatic measures.
- * Measure Change: 90 Day Readmissions has changed to 30 Day Readmissions. Payment is based on the number of readmissions per 1,000 eligible members per year.
- * Measure Change: Generic Prescriptions is now titled Formulary Adherence. No changes were made to how the measure is calculated. Please see the Technical Resources document on the CBI Resources page of the Alliance provider website at www.ccah-alliance.org/cbi-resources.html for a list of preferred prescriptions.

Introducing: Provisionary Measures

The following measures will not qualify for payment in 2018; they will be monitored and considered for payment in CBI 2019. Providers will receive quarterly rates and can monitor their performance in preparation for payment in 2019.

- * Clinical Depression Screening
- * Clinical Depression Follow Up Care
- * Adolescent Immunizations
- * Formulary Medication Utilization: Basaglar
- * Formulary Medication Utilization: Air Duo

Discontinued Measures

Due to the new guidelines from the State, the following measures have been removed from the 2018 CBI Program:

- * Electronic Claims Submittal
- * Electronic Referrals Submittal
- * Extended Office Hours
- * Advance Care Planning
- * Asthma Action Plans have also been removed from the 2018 CBI Program. However, the Alliance encourages the use of the forms with your patients. The forms are now located on the Forms Library page of the Alliance Provider Website at www.ccah-alliance.org/FormLibrary.html.
